

Update 6

Our parts were ordered and have arrived. Matt has made the pedals. Vladimir had to grind off the mounting plates for the gas tank. This problem occurred because the holes weren't aligned with the gas tank holes. Alex also changed the design for the gas tank, and now we have to get our body made up until before we can install the gas tank. We also got the steering wheel on. Due to an incident at NWTC, everyone's parts are still at NWTC because the water jet broke. We plan on going to Fiberglass Solutions to lay out our body for the chassis next week.

Chassis

Pedals

Removed gas tank mount

Chain tension system